

Valuable Resources on the Intel ISEF Website

The Intel ISEF website can be a very helpful tool!

Go to: <http://www.societyforscience.org/isef/>

Points of Interest on this website

1. Click on Document Library to access:

- the complete Intel ISEF 2014 Rules and Guidelines booklet
- all of the forms a student will need for their project
- a student handbook designed to help students begin a project
(a wonderful tool for teachers to “tweak” and make into a lesson)

2. Click on Rules and Guidelines to access:

- an Intel ISEF Rules Wizard
(a short program that asks you a series of questions and tells you which forms your student must complete for their project)
- an overview of the forms and dates
(a great summary of why each form is necessary and when they are to be completed)
- another route to download the required forms
- specific guidelines to follow/consider if your student does choose a human participant, vertebrate animal, or potentially hazardous biological agent project.